Congress To-day.

SENATE .- Reports were received from the Secretaries of War and of the Treasury, relative to deepening the flats of Lake St. Clair, and a contract for removing the wreck of the Missouri. A petition was presented from Chemung county, New York, for the repeal of the fugitive slave law, and it was laid on the table.

Petitions were presented in favor of the home stead bill; various other bills of a private nature were disposed of; and it was agreed that when the Senate adjourn, it adjourn to meet on Mon-

Are Republics Ungrateful! There has not been in modern times another instance of injustice, persecution, and oppression so decided and malignant as has been exhibited by a portion of the Democratic party of the United States toward General Scott. In the beginning of the Mexican war, jealousy of his already acquired fame induced the administration to entrust the command of the American army to a comparatively obscure soldier. The successes of that soldier, and the growing admiration of the people for his indomitable prowess, gave a new direction to the fears and envy of the administration, and and it became necessary to eclipse his fame. This, it was thought, could be safely done by so placing the two generals in juxtaposition that a competition with each other would be forced upon them. General Taylor, breathing scarce a murmur, reposed, as he could well afford to do, upon the laurels he had won; while General Scott went on from step to step to the achievement of the most glorious triumphs that have been consummated during the present century Such successes were more than could be tolerated by the administration of the United States, and a fruitless attempt was made to create a lieutenant-general, in the person of Mr. Benton, who was to carry the sword in one hand and a proffer of negotiation in the other. Failing in this, the effort was made to wrest the newly-gained laure's from the brow of Scott, and to bestow them upon a man who had -" never set a squadron in a field, Nor the division of a battle knew more than a spinster:"

while a civilian was despatched from Washington to earn the glory of a treaty-conquest! Foiled again here, and amazed and dismayed at the unerring and inevitable successes of the illustrious sage and hero, pet officers were selected by the administration to annoy the commander-in-chiefto harass him by "a fire in the rear"-and authority was given them to thwart him in the zenith of his noble triumphs! And, finally, when the American army in Mexico was resounding his praise; when the people and government of Mexico were less subdued by the prowess of his arms than by the high-souled magnanimity that had made him their friend and protector in the hour of their adversity; when the people of this whole Union were exultingly proclaiming his triumphs and deeds of noble daring, -it was then that he returned to the capital of our nation, not as the here to whom our gratitude was due, but as a prisoner who had incurred the displeasure, or excited the fears, of a weak, a jealous, and an envious administration!

Are any prepared to condemn and denounce such a shameless course of procedure as this? If so, we ask them to pause before they give utterance to their sentiments of indignation; for the same spirit and the same policy are this day manifested toward General Scott by a portion of his countrymen, who are inconsiderable neither in numbers, intelligence, nor influence. Traduction, misrepresentation, villification, and ridicule are incessantly levelled against him, as against no other public man in the United States.

But let it be so. The Amer can people are just in their verdicts, and their power is above that of demagogues, vituperative presses, and corrupt administrations. We contemplate their verdict in the case of General Scott as a foregone conclusion. No ribald abuse, no defamation, no ridicule can affect bim. The scal of their approbation, deliberately expressed, will glitter as another star in the bright wreath upon his brow!

Letters of General Scott.

The New York Herald, the Washington Union, and other journals inimical to the interests of General Scott, are republishing certain letters on political subjects written by him in 1841, 1843, and 1849. We also shall take an early opportunity of placing these letters before our readers; and, while we shall do so with cheerfulness and pleasure and pride for the generous and patriotic impulses they evince, we may also make free quotations from a record our adversaries would wharf at willingly have forgotten.

Scott in Massachusetts.

We have been favored with a telegraphic despatch to a member of Congress, from which we learn that Henry L. Dawes, esq., has been chosen a delegate to the Whig National Convention from the 7th Congressional district in Massachusetts. This is the "Berkshire" district of the Old Bay State, and is represented in Congress by that sterling Whig, the Hon. John Z. Goodrich. Mr. Dawes is a warm friend and admirer of General Scott, and will advocate his nomination for the

THE MAYORALTY.

In the Telegraph of the 1st instant a writer over the signature of "Ashland" has attempted a reply to my communication. He considers it unnecessary to reply to the old charges made last week, and passes them over. He next unswers, by asking why I did not arraign the clerks in the City Post Office, who, he says, are equally guilty with those in the General Post Office—where he admits himself to be employed, by his so strenuously endeavoring to shift the responsibility from the General to the City Post Office. I answer, that I know nothing about the City Post Office who makes himself obnoxious by his rabid viluperation, and who threatens to excommunicate all Whigs who do not vote for Mr. Lenox, and who considers "all fair in politics;" and he I imagine to be the same who is now endeavoring to shield himself by expo-ing others. I arraigned no clerks; and "Ashland" has shown himself, (without my taking the trouble to inquire of the editor) by UNGENEROUSEY bringing

Shame!!

"Ashland" next says that he knows all about the report is not fact. Very well, so much the better; as he says he is well posted on this sulject, we can believe him until we hear better evidence. I mentioned the rumer for the purpose of preventing, were it intended to be carried out. He liamisses this affair with a fourth of trumpels over the superintendent, the Mayor, not what is to be, and the Land of the thing of the content was the content of the says and the Says has been endeavoring to force on the cities of the last month. They prevailed on Mr. Lenox to see that the General stands no chance of being elected. This is he old cry they have been endeavoring to force on the cities for the last month. They prevailed on Mr. Lenox as he was not all the contest would be between him and Gen. Weightman; but no sooner was Mr. Many in the field than they changed front, and called upon party to sustain Mr. Lenox as he Wing nomines. Admirab c, indeed!

"Ashland" has any point I submitted, nor has he advanced any, but is simply asks a few queet ours he says I ample to be acquainted with, and which probably existably in his benighted imagniation.

Why were you mum about the succession? Who will under if Mr. Lenox is defended this time? And will not the line be broken? Does "Ashland," too, aspire so high? MESSRS. EDITORS: An old friend and subscriber would ask the privilege, through your columns, of expressing some of his views upon the interesting question of the dayoraity. Let me premise that I am not of those Whigs has nominated Mr. Maury, or called him out. Having roted for Gen. Weightman at the last election for Mayor of this city, I naturally looked for his nomination again for hat office. Although not of the "sixty" Whigs complained of by Mr. Lenox's friends, I am not prepared to denounce isem as faithless to Whig principles because they support Mr. Maury. It is notorious that Democrats are among the most active of Mr. Lenox's supporters. Does he object to ceciving their votes? I opine not. Neither does this support of Mr. Lenox make him a Democrat, nor his Democratic friends Whigs. Why, then, denounce Whigs for suporting Mr. Maury?

cociving their voies? I opine not. Neither does this support of Mr. Lenox make him a Democrate friends Whigs. Why, then, denounce Whigs for supporting Mr. Maury?

But, Mesrs. Editors, I care nothing for either Lenox or Maury. I believe Mr. L. to be a Whig, and am ready to soncede that when his friends show that he has faithfully lischarged his duty as a Mayor, it is an argument in use favor. I prefer R. C. Weightman, regarding him as a better Whig, because I believe him to be, and to have been, through life, a better man. All the candidates are no doubt competent to act as Mayor. If great talent was required, I should vote against them all. But I am sometimes told by it. Lenox's friends that Gen. Weightman is not the Whig andidate. How is this? Why is Mr. Lenox any more the Whig candidate than Gen. Weightman? Has the Whig party made a selection of either one of the two? I have seen, heard, nor dreamed, of any such thing. The Whigs, when acting as a party, generally actin concert.

If, then, Mr. Lenox is the Whig candidate, par excellence, why do not the Whigs support him unanimously and harmoniously, and the Democrats, as is their custom, as unanimously and the Democrats, as is their custom, as unanimously oposes his receivetion. Mr. Lenox, when elected dayor for the first time, beat as good a Whig as himself, to say the least, and I believe that his majority was composed if the votes of true-blue Democrats. Nay, more: I believe hat if Mr. Lenox shall be re-elected, he will be indebted for the same to his Democratie supporters, I believe, more-ever, that Mr. Lenox could not obtain the free, tall Whig or the first time, beat as good a Whig as himself, to say the least, and I believe that his majority was composed if the votes of true-blue Democrate supporters, I believe, more-ever, that Mr. Lenox could not obtain the free, tall Whig cote of Washington city, were one or both of his opponents withdrawn. Observation of City Delegates, 8th of Marc's 1844, page 30 of the Record.

Mr. Lenox moved to amend the 10th section of the Charter by striking out from the third line the words "purposes of education," and to insert "catablishment and support at com-mon schools." This section, thus amended, upon the motion of Mr. Leuox, in March, 1844, and previous to the passage of the school bill, which was in December, 1844, constitutes the minth section of our present charter.

The voters of Washington, and the friends of the public schools, have before them the undersiable evidence by whose act it was that the dollar tax was specifically delicated to the establishment and support of a system of public schools; and by inquiring of trustees, teachers, or children, they can know if any other candidate but Mr. Lenox has ever encouraged them by his presence.

CITIZENS OF WASHINGTON! You will be called on in a few days to east your votes for Mayor, and every man should be cautious how he votes for his own interest.

The question is now asked, if Walter Lonox has not proved himself to be the poor man's friend in every instance? He is the only man in the field for Mayor that has taken an interest in the public schools, by which every man's child can get a liberal education. He is the man that sustains the working-man in his wages. Under his administration the police system has been so reformed that the poor man is no longer chased from pillar to post by hired spies, as formerly. He excentes in person the laws against rowdyism, and, by example, stimulates the police to preserve the peace and quiet of the city. In fact, in doors and out of doors, he does his duty faithfully; and his administration of the office of the Mayoralty will not suffer in comparison with that of any of his predecessors, however active and worthy they have been. Then why change a faithful, active, intelligent, and efficient officer? Reflect before you vote!

OF THE RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE.

In the third week of June, 1852, will be comnenced, in the city of Washington, a Weekly Campaign Newspaper, under the above title. It will be devoted to the maintenance of genuine republican principles as avowed and practised by the great WHIG PARTY of the United States: to the preservation of the NATIONAL Union, and of the Rights of the States and the RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE under that Union;

and in an especial manner to the election of

of the Whig National Convention, to the Presidency of this Republic. It will be the agreeable duty of the editor to dwell and to descant upon the merits of a man around whose brow are entwined the laurels gathered on many a victorious field. During the long period of forty years his talents, his valor, and his humanity have nobly illustrated his country's honor; and the patriotic masses, the toiling millions of our widely-extended country. will, on the seventh of November next, arise in their power and majesty to bestow their suffrages

THE RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE will be published once a week-from the third week of June until family are subject. We flatter ourselves that, without asking a question, we will teil all who favor us with a call their complaints and symptoms, and gua anty an easy and speedy cure. A decided advantage we have over other medical men is in the manner we determine the nature and location of the disease, which is by the urine. We require at teast two ounces of the first in the morning. The many fact lites afforded us by hospital and private practice in this and foreign countries warrant us in assuring those who are suffering from disease that our treatment is attended with unusually favorable results; for, "to know the disease is half the cure." The Doctors' medicines are wholly vegetable, and prepared by themselves.

References can be had at our office from persons living in all the western counties of the State of New York, Pennsylvania, Canada, &c., who, having been given up to die by the Faculty, hearing of us, and availing themselves of our skill, have been restored to health.

Diseases successfully treated at this office are the following: Consumption, both nervous and pulmonary; also, Coughs, Colds, Bronchi is, and all pains arising from the chest lungs, or liver; all cases of Nervous Weaknes, Neuralia, Hypochondriscal complaints; all cases of female weakness and obstructions; Dyspepsia, Salt Rheum, Sybilia, Piles, Gravel, and all Serofulous complaints; Mercurial Diseases, Rheumalism, and all complaints which require the biood to be pure and healthy, and to assist mature to perform her natural functions.
